The proposals tabled by the European Commission as part of the Greening Freight Transport Package include the revision of the Directive on the Weights and Dimensions of road vehicles. The stated aims of the amendment are to promote zero-emission vehicles (ZEV), to facilitate the use of heavier and longer vehicles in cross-border (the so-called EMS – European Modular System), and to support intermodal transport operations.

The five associations CER – ERFA – UIC – UIP – UIRR have commissioned the German consulting company d-fine GmbH to analyse the impacts of the proposed measures on combined transport, on conventional rail freight, on road transport infrastructure and the subsequent risk of reverse modal shift from rail to road.
